CHOIR AT ST. ANDREW'S HAD NO ORGAN MUSIC AT MORNING SERVICE

Like a revival of the singing in Quaker and Puritan churches in the early days of American history, when no organ was used to accompany the choir, was the scene in St. Andrew's cathedral yesterday morning, when no organ music was available because electric power failed during the morning. The instrument is operated electrically.

The cathedral's choir had to sing the service without any organ accompaniment, but under the leadership of R. Rodland Bode, organist and choir master, came through with flying colors, Mr. Bode giving the singers the proper pitch for the music. In the afternoon the power came on again, so that the organ was available for the evening service.

Whether the revolver, bullets, suit cases, clothing and other articles belonging to Yee Yee Keng, Korean man now under indictment for first degree murder, shall be returned to him, will be decided in Circuit Judge Ashford's court probably within two weeks. Argument on the question to be had on Monday morning, March 13.

WITHIN THE LAW IF TIPS ARE NOT SPENT

DON MOYNE, Jr.—Two waitresses tipped $5 each by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and two men—sawyer boys tipped 50 and 10 cents by the president will have to return it to the donors, according to orders issued by the U. S. marshal today.

The orders followed a ruling by Attorney General George C. Rosen that if the recipients of the tips spent the money it would constitute a violation of the new anti-gambling law. This makes the donor and the recipient punishable for the act.

PIE WAY DROPS FROM ATHLETICS AT OLD ELI

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Nelson M. ("Pie") Way, Yale's premier pitcher, will be ineligible for the nine this spring. Way played baseball a year at Norwich before coming to Yale and as he has already played two years at Yale he automatically becomes ineligible on account of the three-year rule.

Way was tackled on the football team last fall and won the Princeton game by a sensational touchdown.

INNER WORKINGS OF OLD SEANCE TRICK SHOWN UP

E. Coran Marshall created considerable of a furor one week ago when at the Bijou theater he "showed up" the inner workings of a number of the tricks of so-called "spiritualists," "mind readers" and seers of a like ilk who traffic on the gullibility of the great American public. This exposure proved a revelation to the uninitiated and the simplicity with which it was shown to be possible to dup the public would have proved laughable but for the fact that it is tragic.

Again at the Bijou theater last night Marshall delivered a lecture and a further exposure. New means for separating the public from its coin were treated with and a new insight given into the ease with which these crooks operate.

Among the exposures given were the "mind reading" of Alexander, the well-known Anna Eva Fay cabinet tricks and Thurston's "Simsa seance." Marshall knows his business from the ground up. He "puts over" in splendid fashion a duplication of the work of the imposters.

For the balance of the present week the Bijou theater will present a remarkable bill, including further demonstrations of the simplicity of the "occult" when one is on the inside. Marshall has outlined a program calling for three changes during the week.

In addition to this main feature the Bijou will offer a superior bill of vaudeville and motion pictures. The Musical Goolmans are a clever team of instrumentalists. Rowley and Tointon, singing, dancing and specialty artists, will also be added features to the Marshall program.

At noon today Marshall made the celebrated "blindfold drive," discovering a hidden article by the aid of the "spirit kingdom." At the performance tonight he will tell just how this is accomplished.

HAWAIIAN EVENING IS THEME OF CLUB DANCE AT OAKLAND COLLEGE

Hawaiian palms and garlands decorated the big gymnasium of St. Mary's College, Oakland, on Friday evening, February 25, when a dance was held there by the Elks Club and the Alpha Epsilon of Oakland. It was a typical Hawaiian evening, according to the San Francisco Chronicle, and a Hawaiian orchestra furnished the music for dancing.

BETTY NANSEN NEW PRODUCER'S BIGGEST CATCH

William Fox has but comparatively recently entered the field of silent drama and in the short time he has been producing he has sprung more sensations on the "movie" fans than any one individual in the business. Probably his greatest achievement was the securing of Betty Nansen, the celebrated Danish tragedienne, the bringing of her to this country and the starring of her in a number of big features.

The initial Betty Nansen offering, the initial "Hawaii" theater last evening with the usual Sunday night result at that popular little house—two packed houses.

Of Betty Nansen they say: "You thrill at the Nansen eyes, you weep at the Nansen tears and you throw at the Nansen smile." "The Celebrated Scandal" is full proof of this claim. Alas, especially the fairer sex gasps with delight at the magnificent gown that are worn by this star. The celebrated—almost everything is celebrated in connection with Betty Nansen—"golden gown" of jeweled brocade displayed in this picture cost the sum of $10,000 and was purchased especially for "The Celebrated Scandal."

HEARS VOICE AS HAND OF THIEF GRABS JEWELS

"The Voice of the Fog," in which Donald Brian makes his debut as a Paramount star in a production of the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company, is a picturization of Harold MacGrath's widely read novel of the same name, which is considered one of the masterpieces of modern day fiction of suspense and mystery.

ENDS LONG DRUNKEN PERIOD BY KILLING HIMSELF WITH RAZOR

Lying dead upon his bed with his throat cut from ear to ear, Henry Howard, a well known carpenter, was found yesterday morning about 9:30 o'clock by the Chinese yard boy at the Tom Douglas residence in Kaplan park. Howard had been drinking heavily and is supposed to have committed suicide. He had been staying at the Douglas home for some time. Howard was of middle age and an American.
